REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The report of the School Board must necessarily be much the same from year to year. Radical changes are not deemed wise or helpful, but plans for a steady improvement and uplift of our schools are being gradually worked out, and looking back over a period of years, for comparison, we have reason to be encouraged. There are certain things essential, if we would have our schools among the best. First, teachers with the right personal qualifications, both natural and acquired. Second, an intelligent, efficient and helpful supervision, and third, a school board with ability and disposition to attend to the prudential affairs of the district with intelligence and reasonable promptness. On the part of the district there must be sufficient appropriations to conduct our schools in keeping with the times in which we are living.

Wages of teachers have been raised considerably in the past few years, as in all other trades and professions, and this is inevitable for the law of supply and demand comes in and we must compete with other towns and districts. We are constantly in danger of losing our best teachers by more tempting offers, and compelled to fill their places with new and untried material. It is not likely that the demand will be lessened, but let us hope that with more normal schools in the state the supply of teachers will be increased. Hooksett and Epsom withdrew from the supervisory district at the close of the year July 15, and a new union was formed with Penacook and Allenstown with Mr. George W. Sumner as superintendent. Everything has worked satisfactorily thus far, and we hope and expect to continue the arrangement for the coming year. The report of the superintendent follows, to which your attention is respectfully invited. The relations between parents, citizens, and school board have been cordial and pleasant, and we feel that we have had their quiet and sympathetic support.

One of the most troublesome problems is that of conveyance of pupils and this arises largely from a misconception of the law, which provides that a certain per cent of the school money may be used for this purpose. But the law is clearly permissive, and not mandatory and is intended to help to some extent those living at a greater distance from school than is reasonable for them to walk, but was not intended to relieve any parents from all trouble and expense in getting their children to and from school. Manifestly it would be unfair to expend so much money on the comparatively few pupils for conveyance, that the much larger number of other pupils would suffer a shorter school year. There are cases, however, where parents may rightly ask for and expect some compensation, and it is the duty of the school board to consider carefully each case, and render such assistance as is needed and is fair to the rest of the district.

Ordinary repairs have been made on nearly all the school buildings throughout the district and they are in a fairly tidy and respectable condition, but they will require constant attention and further outlay the coming year.

The annual school meeting will be held at the Town Hall, Saturday, March 15, 1913, at 2 o'clock p. m., at which time the following financial statement will need to be considered. Estimated expenditures are as follows:

Interest on bonds,	$437.50

PEMBROKE, N. H., February 22, 1913.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board of Pembroke:

With the same school board as last year and a majority of last year's teachers, the district has suffered a change in superintendents without, I hope, a serious break in the continuity of the school work. I have endeavored, in the main, to continue the policy of the last administration. The changes effected have been very few and in these changes the teachers have taken the initiative as often as myself. My own conception of the office of superintendent is such as to allow the most perfect freedom of expression by teachers with reference to parts of the work in which they are specialists and the incorporation of their ideas as a part of my own plans.

A new system of penmanship and of reading have been introduced. It is too early to speak of results. The work in phonics in the lower grades should be supplemented, in the fifth grade and above, by constant drill with the dictionary. This is not being done because the dictionaries now in the pupils' hands have a system of marking sounds entirely different from that of the readers, spellers, histories and geographies used throughout the schools.

Much of my time during this first half-year has been devoted to acquainting myself with the school attendance of the children of the district and in installing a system of records through which this information may be constantly at hand. The state superintendent of public instruction seems determined to give us all the aid in his power in finding out the cause of the illiteracy in Suncook and in effecting its cure.

The appointment by both districts of the same man for truant officer for Pembroke and Allenstown has done much to simplify the attendance problem. Mr. Stokes now knows himself responsible for every child seen on the streets during school hours. Every business man in Suncook must have noted improved conditions.

The per cent. of attendance for the last school year was exceedingly good (93.1) with an equally good record for the fall term just completed. The number of instances of tardiness and of dismissal, on the other hand, are to be deplored. The one thousand tardy marks and the two thousand dismissals of last year cannot all be necessary. The record for the fall term indicates a similar amount of tardiness and three thousand dismissals for the current school year. A certain school district in the state has stopped all dismissals for carrying dinners by having the morning session commence at half-past eight and close at half-past eleven. Regular dismissals for music lessons and frequent dismissals at the request of parents are not so easily eliminated until parents appreciate their effect on the work of the entire school and co-operate with school authorities in reducing them to a minimum. No high per cent. of efficiency will ever be attained in a room where a large number of dismissals is the regular daily order.

The health of our school children is certainly as important as their mental development. Conditions of ventilation and heating in the Suncook school are not conducive to health. Either the boiler is inadequate to heat the building properly and allow for a reasonable amount of ventilation or it is not being run to its full capacity. There is no place in the building where a child can wash his hands except in the two teachers' rooms which are too small for general use.

Because of the sending of grades seven and eight from the Brickett and Pembroke Street schools to Suncook, a large number of children spend the noon hour at the Suncook school. If these children were not carefully supervised during this time the added educational advantage which this consolidation secures might be purchased by them at too great a cost. This work of supervision is too great a burden to place, day after day, on the one teacher who carries her own dinners. She needs to have time to relax, between the morning and afternoon session, from the continuous nervous strain of her own roomful of children. In many places the janitor is on duty during the noon hour.

Many new wall maps are needed. I have already mentioned the difficulty of using the dictionaries now furnished. There is still need of much new reading material. In their last report the school board asked for three hundred fifty dollars for text-books and supplies, which amounts to about $1.40 a year per pupil. Two dollars a year per pupil would be none too much for several years to come.

I make the following recommendations:

1. That a careful study of the heating and ventilating system at the Suncook school be made and that such changes or additions be made as are necessary to make it thoroughly adequate.

2. That a suitable person be employed to supervise the children at the Suncook school during the noon hour.

3. That no expense be spared in making the truant officer's work effective.

4. That each basement in Suncook be provided with a sink having a faucet at one end and an automatically closing drinking fountain at the other.

5. That provision be made for advancing the salaries of all competent teachers.
